INSTITUTE CLOSSES

Had Interesting and Beneficial Session—
Good Attendance of Teachers and Visitors.

WEDNESDAY—Morning.

The devotional exercises of Wednesday morning were conducted by O. D. Spence. After roll call Mr. Williams, of the State Normal School at Bowling Green, Ky., talked to the institute a few minutes telling of the call for well trained teachers.

The class of little ones again being present, Prof. Sharon showed how quickly they could learn to read by the word method. Whether the term "recitation" was a good one or not was discussed by C. E. Thomas and others. That which constitutes a good recitation was discussed by the institute.

Some very helpful remarks were made by F. M. Pogue on the "Art of Questioning." Mr. Charles Grady says that the art of questioning through the personality of the teacher was the life of the recitation. Though a visitor, Mr. Grady from time to time made some very helpful remarks.

When the institute was called to order after a short recess Mrs. W. O. Tucker favored the body with an instrumental solo. Dr. Daugherty delighted the institute with a paper on "The Proper Methods of Instruction in giving the child a true and useful education." J. B. McNeely made the motion which was carried that this paper be printed as part of the minutes of the institute. Prof. Sharon told of his way of teaching history which was very instructive. Miss Corda Wheeler gave some good points by which impudence and rebellion could be treated. Institute stood adjourned until the afternoon.

WEDNESDAY—Afternoon.

After song and roll call, Dr. Vernon Fox made a splendid talk on how Physiology should be taught. He made his discussions very interesting by drawings. Prof. Williams very pointedly gave the evil effects of the tobacco habit. Dr. L. F. Moore said that children should be taught how to live and properly care for their bodies for the sake of their own health.

Mr. Fred Stone says that "whispering in school has many causes, but no cure as he can find. The institute was then adjourned until Thursday morning.

THURSDAY—Morning.

The institute was called to order Thursday morning by Vice-President Thomas. Devotional exercises were conducted by Prof. Williams, of Bowling Green. When the roll had been called Instructor Sharon took his class of faithful little ones and showed what wonderful progress they could make by the proper training. "The aim of public schools was quite an interesting topic. From the views of Miss Ethel Hard, Bro. Elgin and the Instructor, it can be summed up that the ultimate aim is to make men and women by educating them physically, mentally and greatest of all, morally. Prof. Williams gave some interesting statistics of the rate of increase of crime in some portions of the country and its decrease in others. He thinks this is due to the way they are taught. Mr. E. E. Phillips showed the exemplary way in which the teacher should go because his manner and habits effect the pupil.

Mr. Williams made quite an interesting and instructive talk on "What is Teaching?" His answer to this question was: "Teaching is placing before a student or body of students an object or subject in such a way as to attract and hold the attention and to put into operation the proper mental and physical powers so that the result will be knowledge, skill and power.

Recess was announced at this period. If all teachers were as Misses Iva Hicklin and Verda Guill, ideal teachers, this county would have a far better educated population. Miss Timmie Wheeler gave some good points as to what teachers should read. She emphasized the remark that they should do more general reading.

Miss Emma Terry and A. A. Fritts took a peep into the future and told their opinion of the coming teacher. Miss Vienna Roberts gave a very earnest talk on why moral instruction is the highest duty placed upon a teacher. J. C. Hardin also gave his views on this subject. After a few remarks along the same line by the Instructor, adjournment for dinner was announced.

THURSDAY—Afternoon.

When the institute had been called to order, "How moral acts become habits" was nicely told by Miss Mary Towery and O. D. Spence. Miss Jennie Clement made a good talk and Mary Lou Wilborn read an excellent paper on "How may the example of the teacher be a great factor in moral training." They think the school is a reproduction of the teacher, therefore he should be very careful.

Some good ways by which obedience to, and respect for the law may be inculcated were given by Miss May Hoyt. The highest aim of education is to make better men and women so thinks Misses Elva Roberts and Margaret Hankin.

The institute discussed the subject "Wills," and gave some examples of will power. He says if the teacher exerts the proper will power crime will decrease. Misses Willie Clement and Hattie Majors told in what way knowledge was power.

Bro. Price, as always, had something good to tell the teachers.

The institute adjourned at 3 o'clock.

THURSDAY—Evening.

Quite a number of Marion people as well as the teachers gathered in the School Auditorium Thursday evening and were entertained by recitations by Misses May Hoyt and Lena Holtsclaw. Music was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Walker, Misses Sallie Woods and Gwendolyn Haynes. An instructive lecture was given by Prof. Sharon on "Two Cycles of Literature."

FRIDAY—Morning.

The institute was called to order at 8:30 Friday morning. The devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Butler.

After roll call a representative of the Bowling Green business school made a few remarks in behalf of his school. Prof. Sharon then gave a few moments to his little class. Those not using the word method were compelled to acknowledge its superiority over other methods. The committee on daily program for the county schools being ready to report, the chairman, Prof. King, explained the program which they had made.

At the close of recess a solo by Mrs. Walker was much enjoyed.

Arithmetic was the next subject taken up. Misses Ruth Hill and Corda Smart gave their opinions of the two underlying principles of Arithmetic.

Mrs. Walker told her methods of teaching numbers to the beginners. Prof. Sharon showed how many of the hard points of Arithmetic could be made practical thereby making it easier for the pupils to understand.

The body was adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

(Concluded next week.)

AT CHURCHILL DOWNS

Historic Race Course at Louisville will be Location of 1907 Exhibitions.

After three weeks of negotiations with the owners of Douglas Park at Louisville, resulting in a failure to induce them to lease the grounds for the 1907 Kentucky State Fair, pending the clearing of the title to the property and adjustment of other matters in connection with the purchase of the track and buildings as a permanent location, the Kentucky State Board of Agriculture has been given the use of Churchill Downs at Louisville for holding this year's exhibition during the week of Sept. 16. The Kentucky State Fair will therefore be held on the dates mentioned, at historic Churchill Downs, where the Fair last year was held.

Messrs. Charles F. Grainger and Matt J. Winn, representing the Churchill Downs interests, have agreed to the use of these grounds and the committee representing the State Board have extended to them a vote of cordial thanks for their liberality in the matter, inasmuch as much as the grounds are tendered to the State Fair upon terms agreeable to the State Fair management.

Churchill Downs, while a typical race course, is considered to be the best equipped State Fair grounds in south, with the possible exception of the Texas Fair grounds. There will be an abundance of stall room for all kinds of live stock, there is a big grand stand and there are buildings suitable for the departments which must be shown indoors.

The entry list in the different exhibit departments is the greatest in the history of the Kentucky State Fair, at this time, three weeks prior to the exhibition.

The State Fair management is spending over $7,000,000 in exploitation and expects record breaking attendance daily. Some of the greatest amusement enterprises in the country have been contracted with for State Fair week.

Brother Against Brother.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 26.—It is possible that W. F. Paris and Robert Paris, brothers, of Livingston county, may oppose each other for the legislature in the Livingston-Crittenden district, the former as a Republican and the latter as a Democrat. Robert Paris has already been nominated by the Democrats.

He was formerly a Republican, and the district is close enough to make a race interesting, although the Democratic candidate has a shade the best of it.

Madeline Jenkins, Katie Yates, Marion Clement, Gwendoline Haynes, Annie Elgin, Fannie Blue, Nannie Rochester, Galen Dixon, Sylvan Price, Homer Moore, Orlin Moore, Robert Jenkins, Emmett Clifton and Gray Rochester.

Destructive Wreck Near Dawson.

Dawson, Springs, Ky., Aug. 26.—One of the worst wrecks that has occurred on the main line of the Illinois Central in years occurred just south of this place on the first bridge yesterday morning between five and six o'clock, when freight train No. 188 crashed into the rear end of freight No. 186 which had just been let into the block.

Failure of the air to work on train No. 188 was given as the cause and the engine was precipitated to the ground fifteen below, together with seven cars loaded with lumber. The track was torn up for some distance.

The accident rendered the track impassable and the through passenger trains were sent over the L. & N. to Henderson and then down the Henderson division to Princeton, but the local passengers were transferred over the wreck.

To be Held in Paducah—Grand Spirit of Improvement—Let Crittenden Take Notice.

Mr. Chas. N. Wilson, president of the American Engineering company, of Indianapolis, Ind., will be present at the Immigration Convention and address the delegates and citizens on the subject of Inter-Urban Lines, the value of same in developing the commercial interests of the community and especially the importance and value of inter-urban lines to Paducah.

CALDWELL COUNTY NEWS.

(FROM PRINCETON LEADER.)

Miss Fannie Jackson, after a delightful visit of several days to Miss Carrie White, returned to her home near Fredonia yesterday.

o o o o

Miss Virginia Nunn, the charming and accomplished daughter of Judge T. J. Nunn, of Frankfort, is Miss Agnes Orr's pleasant guest.

o o o o

Mr. J. A. Stegar has, in the past few weeks, sold three building lots, or all the vacant lots back of his home and that of Mr. J. R. Wylie. The first lot, with a forty-five foot front, and next to the new hotel building of Lester Bros., was sold to Mr. W. H. Lloyd, of Morgantown. Lester Bros. took the lot next to the one bought by Mr. Lloyd, it having a sixty foot front. The third and corner lot, was sold to Mr. E. J. Hayward, the banker of Marion, who like the other purchasers, will probably build right soon. All these lots being very desirable, sold at twenty-five dollars per front foot, making the lots bring over thirty-eight hundred dollars. This sale of lots is very convincing that Princeton property is alright as an investment, especially when men like Mr. Hayward, who is regarded as one of the State's best and most successful business men invest in property.

Miss Mary Lou and Amanda Akin returned yesterday from a visit to Hopkinsville. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Mildred Hall, who is now their guest.

Miss Mary Wyatt and the Misses

Gholson, of Fredonia, have returned home after a pleasant visit to Mrs. Jennie Gray.

Mrs. Maggie Cassidy, of Dyersburg, who has been visiting at Brookhaven, Miss., enroute home, remained in Princeton a few days as the pleasant guest of her sister, Mrs. Jennie Gray.

It looks as though there will be no trouble in getting enough tobacco pooled to handle it at Marion. Farmers desiring to pool their tobacco should do so at once. Anyone desiring to pool his tobacco, or join the Association will have a chance to do so at this meeting.

A. F. WOOLF, Pres.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Former Mayor Paul Barth Shoots Himself Through the Head with a Revolver.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Paul C. Barth, for a year and a half mayor of Louisville and ousted recently by the decision of the court of appeals, shot and killed himself yesterday. Mr. Barth ended his life in his private office at the headquarters of the Utica Lime company, of which he was general manager. The shot was heard by his business associates, who rushed into the room to find Mr. Barth unconscious on the floor with a bullet hole through his head. He regained consciousness and died at about 1 o'clock.

Mr. Andrew Sargent, formerly of Hopkinsville, was called to attend him and found immediately that the wound would be fatal.

Mr. Barth was a man of means and was president of the board of aldermen for several years. It was Mr. Barth who welcomed President Roosevelt when the president made his southwestern tour two years ago.

The cause of the suicide is unknown. Since the ousting of Mr. Barth's administration by mandate of the court of appeals two months ago, the acts of the officials during his term have been subjected to severe scrutiny by the officials who gave in with Mayor Bingham, appointed by Governor Beckham. Nothing was found that reflected any discredit on Mr. Barth personally, but the methods of conducting some of the city institutions has been under fire, both in official reports and in the press.

Mr. Barth was very sensitive to criticism, and his friends at times remarked that the condition of affairs seemed to gall him. However, he gave no evidence that he was in any danger of breaking down, physically or mentally, and, since the ouster, had been conducting his business affairs as before he assumed office. He was not only manager of the Utica Lime company, but had a large interest in the Ohio River Sand & Gravel company, of which he was active head.

Mr. Barth was forty nine years old. He was a widower and leaves three young sons.

Make Good Haul.

Three registered mail sacks, containing about a quarter of a million dollars, disappeared from the Burlington train between Denver and Oxford, Neb., last Sunday night and the postoffice officials have just made the theft public. The train left Denver with seven sacks and but four remained when it was discovered. Detectives and postoffice officials are at work on the case.—Hopkinsville

I have used it constantly. I believe it to be the best medicine of its kind, and I wish all sufferers from these troubles to know the good Herbine has done me." J. H. Orme.

Strange Comet.

Early risers up just before the peep of day yesterday, were rewarded by seeing the unusual sight of a comet which only appears at a given point once in every 120 years.

Swift's comet, known as "1832-III" became plainly visible to the naked eye at about 3:25 o'clock yesterday morning. Although astronomers had declared that the comet would be followed by a trail of meteorites as the tiny white hot particles it throws off are called but these were only visible to the naked eye as a milky white trail steaming out behind the comet proper. The comet was visible until day light.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

Swift's comet occupies 120 years in circling its orbit and it will be seventy-five years or in 1952, before the head of the comet is due to come near the earth again. When it came the last time the sky was made so bright at night that a newspaper could be read by the comet's light.

At its appearance yesterday morning the comet was not nearly so bright, however. It was clearly visible, about half way between the zenith and the horizon to the east.

It looked like an extraordinary large and bright star, but as the falling meteors trailing behind and burning by reason of their rapid descent through the earth's atmosphere there appeared to the naked eye of the observer only a bright trail of light, appearing from its great distance to be not more than four inches wide and a foot long. Otherwise Swift's visitor could hardly have been seen without the aid of a telescope. —Henderson Journal.

Styles in Summer Resorts.

Sometimes the methodicalness of mortals, even on their vacations, is astonishing. In response to the question, "Where shall I go in August for the best time?" the agent whose business it is to see that people who come to him are sent to first class resorts, replied, "Well, you see the early part of the summer was so cold that it threw the usual scheme out of plumb, and it is a little hard to say just where the crowd will go in August.

Now, I had always known that there was a traditional rotation of seashore in July and mountains in August, but I had no idea it was so general as to affect the resorts to any real extent. Nor am I persuaded yet, in spite of the agent, that it is. I have been to the seashore resorts during the mountain season and found them full, and I have been to the mountain resorts in the seashore season and found them full. And this year I don't believe enough people are going to linger at the shore, on account of the delay in the arrival of summer to make the mountains a barren wilderness in August.—The Travel Magazine.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my Book on either dyspepsia. The Heart or the Kidneys Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. ## HEALED OF SEVERE MALADY

Lady Eighty-Two Years of age Does her own Work and was Cured by Christian Science

(From Henderson Gleaner.)

Editor Daily Gleaner

It was my pleasure a few days ago to entertain for a day Mrs. Olive Parker, of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Parker will be remembered as the widow of the late Asa Parker and mother of Mrs. Fannie Walker and John Parker, with whom she makes her home.

Mrs. Parker states that five years ago she was healed of a severe malady under Christian Science treatment and never uses medicine of any material remedies now. Does not feel weak or debilitated at all does her own washing because she can do it better than the family laundress, churns, bakes pies, etc., because it is a pleasure to work. Mrs. Parker also says that she eats three meals per day, anything she desires and as much as she wishes and sleeps well all night, every night and never has an ache or a pain of any kind.

Mrs. Parker uses glasses and has a slight defect in her hearing, but correct and walks rapidly with ease in her old natural manner. Her voice is as firm and clear, her mind as active as when I last met her, twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. Parker has nursed several cases of consumption and the malady of which she was healed through Christian Science was an advanced chronic catarrh, also a cough that was so severe as to keep her awake almost all night and other ailments which required the constant use of medicine. She now stays well, is active and feels young at eighty-two.

"The prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he hath committed sin they shall be forgiven him." —James 5:15

"She Puts on a Choaker."

Two ladies were talking the other day and in some way the telephone subject came under discussion. They both had "party line" telephone. One of the ladies was telling about how mean somebody in her neighborhood is. To use her own language, the somebody will "talk to some other fool" for half an hour, and never say anything either, and here I will be nearly wild waiting to order things for dinner or to tell Tom what I want him to fetch home. Are you bothered that way? The other replied I used to be, but am not any more. A friend of mine who is connected with the service, told me how to put on a choaker and I will tell you. You may have noticed those two metal knobs at the top of the instrument. Well, they are there whether you have noticed them or not. Now, when somebody has used the line about twice as long as they ought to, I just lay a key or short piece of wire across those two knobs. Then, in a minute or two, I take off my short circuit and can get central all right. I used to feel as if I wanted to say bad words, but now I let the gossip feel that way now. The hint was thankfully received by the one to whom it was given and perhaps others will be thankful too.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. ## Boy Orator.

Timothy Lee addressed about 200 people at the Tabernacle last Thursday night. He spoke on temperance. For one of his age, he was well up on his subject and spoke with fluency and ease. He is fourteen years of age and is accompanied by his father, a native of Warren county, this state. His father was a second cousin of Gen. R. E. Lee.

After singing and a prayer by Rev. H. D. Smith, Timothy was introduced in an eloquent little speech by Lieut. Stanley Bassett. A nice sum was dropped into the basket at the entrance as the people passed into the auditorium. The Electric Light company charged the young orator almost nothing for lighting up the building. We learn that young Lee is on the platform for the purpose of raising money with which to go to Palestine.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera And Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H. Gwin, Concord, Va. For sale by J. H. Orme the leading drug store in Western Kentucky. ## Well-known Citizen Expires.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 22. Capt. Matt Gracey, one of the most prominent citizens in this city, expired suddenly yesterday. He was in his usual good health up until a short time of his illness. He was stricken with apoplexy and died soon afterwards. He had huge interests here, and was the brother of the late Capt. Frank Gracey. He is survived by his wife and four children. Two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Childers and Mrs. John Boyd, live at Eddyville, Ky.

Capt. Gracey's mother died when he was only three weeks old and he was reared to manhood by his aunt, Mrs. Mary A. Jenkins, of Eddyville, who regarded him and loved him as one of her own children. He was in his sixtieth year.

An Appreciated Kindness.

Being overrun with job work, with four extra pages to the News Democrat and 3,000 copies, with a diminished office force, we were compelled to call on the Crittenden Record-Press office, at Marion, for help, which was readily given us and for which we place ourselves under lasting obligations to the genial, popular S. M. Jenkins, the editor, who sent us one of his best men, Vernon Oakley.

This is not the first time that Mr. Jenkins has rendered us assistance, no wonder the Record-Press is one of the best and most popular papers in Kentucky. It could not be otherwise with such a man at the helm.—Sturgis News Democrat.

Philadelphia and the Ohio.

The newspapers of the great valley between the Alleghenies and the Rockies paid marked attention to the proceedings before the Board of Engineers, U. S. A., at Pittsburgh in connection with the project of canalizing the Ohio to a Nine Foot Stage from Pittsburgh to Cairo and the comments were, uniformly, favorable and urgent on the government to complete the work. That the press should be favorable to the project was to be expected. But that the strongest endorsement should come from east of the mountains is exceedingly encouraging to all interests in the Ohio Valley and an omen of assured success. In its issue of August 15, the Philadelphia Record says editorially:

"The estimated cost of canalizing the Ohio River, so as to secure a nine foot waterway from Pittsburgh to Cairo is $60,000,000. There is no doubt of the practicability of the scheme from an engineering point of view nor of the desire of the business interests affected in the populous states touched by the Ohio and its tributaries that the great work shall be undertaken and pushed to early completion. Such a navigable waterway would be of vast incidental benefit in compelling competitive railway freight rates on the great East and West trunk lines. It ought to have the solid support in Congress of all Representatives of the Middle States from Pennsylvania westward to the Rocky Mountains."

The entire country is not only discussing inland waterway improvement, but it is bearing strong testimony to the exceedingly great value of the improved Ohio not alone to the six Ohio River states, but to the trade and commerce of the entire country. The Ohio is, unquestionably, the most important of all inland waterways and unity of action in the Ohio Valley will make its improvement an absolute and speedy certainty.

Cured Hay Fever And Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. H. Orme Mulliken, of Lexington, were put on the trail, but no arrests have been made.

Died After Winning Honor Abroad.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 26.—John Rountt, the last territorial Governor and the first State Executive of Colorado, died here today.

He was appointed territorial Governor in 1875 by President Grant, who remembered him as an honest quartermaster in the war. He was elected first Governor of the State in 1876 and again for the term 1891-1892. He was a Republican and one of the largest counties in the State is named for him. He was born in Eddyville, Ky., eighty-one years ago, and went to Illinois in childhood, where he was educated in the district schools.

He was Sheriff of McLean county, Ill., and after serving as captain of Company E, Ninety Fourth Illinois volunteers during the war from 1861 to 1865, he went in business in Bloomington, Ill., and became treasurer of McLean county. He was United States Marshall for the Southern district of Illinois in 1869 and later appointed Second Assistant Postmaster General of the United States.

He made a fortune mining in Leadville during the boom. He deeded all his property to his wife, who died several months ago. A quarrel among the heirs resulted in the appointment of lunacy commission and the ex-Governor was adjudged insane on May 3 last.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He neglected to take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first signs of kidney trouble, hoping it would wear away, and he was soon a victim of Bright's disease. There is danger in delay, but if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at once the symptom will disappear, the kidneys are strengthened and you are soon sound and well. A. R. Bass of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night, and had a severe headache and pains in the kidneys, and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. J. H. Orme.

Went to Bed With Corpse.

Major James Morton, editor of the Hardaman (Ky.) Free Press, was the victim of an exciting experience at a hotel at Grand Junction, Ky., which he will not soon forget. Nor will the two other persons who were principals in the comic tragedy find it easy to erase the episode from their memories.

Major Morton had missed his train and going to the hotel late, asked for a room. The clerk said the house was crowded, but he "guessed" he could assign him to a room with another man who probably would have no objections.

By a mistake the major was sent to the wrong room. Not wishing to awaken his bed mate, the editor quietly disrobed and retired.

Presently a young man and woman entered the room and took seats near an open window. The major thought this procedure strange, but said nothing, listening to what they said. He heard something about "sitting up with the dead." He remembered that the person in the bed had not moved, and reaching over, he touched his bed mate's hand. Major Morton jumped up with the sheet over him and ran out of the room.

The young people, thinking the corpse had come to life, broke for a side door, and all met in the office on the first floor for explanations.

At this season we should eat sparingly and properly. We should also help the stomach as much as possible by the use of a little Kodol occasionally. Kodol for indigestion and Dyspepsia will rest the stomach by actually digesting the food itself. Sold by J. H. Orme.

Hunting For Trouble.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, sores, wounds, boils, cuts, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters, of Alhambra, Sierra Co. No use hunting. Mr. Walters; it cures every case, Guaranteed at J. H. Orme's drug store, 25c.

Father, Mother and Baby Burned to Death.

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 22.—While kindling a fire in the cook stove at their farm home near Mentone today, Mrs. Charles Webster's clothes caught fire. She ran into the bedroom where her husband and two-year-old baby girl were sleeping. All three and the house were burned.

Two other little girls, who were dressing in another part of the house, saw their mother afire as she ran into the bedroom, and they hurried out to scream for help.

There was a can of gasoline and a can of coal oil in the kitchen, and it is supposed the woman, in attempting to kindle a wood fire with oil, used the gasoline, as the little girls who escaped heard an explosion in the kitchen just after the mother rushed out.

Moral—Don't start fires with gasoline or kerosene.

Hogwallow News.

Dock Hocks and Ellick Hellwanger were caught shooting craps on the road yesterday. This shooting on the public highway should stop.

One of the greatest and most valuable arts yet unmastered is that of doing nothing and making a financial success of it.

Yam Sims rode in from Bounding Billows at 7:38 Friday night, and brought with him a device to skin the people living in and around Hogwallow. It is so simple that any simple person will bite at it, and Yam expects to reap a large harvest of money from it before he gets caught. The scheme is operated like this: Yam takes two common ordinary Irish potatoes, put under his hat on the ground, and then bets that when he lifts the hat the potatoes will be sprouting. The victim puts up the money with Yam, who then walks off, and won't raise the hat until the potatoes have sprouts on them, which usually takes about a month.

No, Maggie, a red cloth around a lantern does not change the color of the light.

Without any great effort it can be seen on some evenings that when the moon rises there is a large star near it. Later in the night when the moon gets over in the west the star is only half way there. But who could expect a small star to travel as fast as a big moon.

It is thought a bold robbery was committed at the postoffice last night, but as nothing is missing, and as the doors and windows had not been entered and no tracks of any kind were made it is probable that nothing of the kind happened.

The deputy constable arrested a gentleman wearing blue pants Friday on a charge of stealing a drove of hogs from a widow woman. Before the man had been in jail long, he talked with the deputy and found that they were distant kin to each other, and to save the family name the deputy turned the prisoner loose at once.

No man can kill twice as much game by taking two guns with him.

A game of baseball was played between a posse of citizens from Tickville and the Excelsior Fiddling Band, Thursday, and at 3 o'clock the score stood 1- to 63 in the shade.

The world is mighty round to be so crooked.

Just at sunset Tuesday evening Fit Smith was captured near a hog pen. He is wanting on general principles. The deputy constable started to take him to the Rye Straw jail, but Fit refused to go, and will have to be kept under guard until a jail can be built at Hogwallow for him.

Ellick Hellwanger, after attending a protracted meeting at Tickville came home Thursday and swore off, after which he took his gun, a quart of lieker, and a pair of loaded dice, and threw them in the creek. Today he went to the spot and after a hard search, found all but the dice.

Someone has figured it out that somebody is killed every minute. We think the police department ought to be notified of this.

We heard the other day that Old Man Jake had died. He had several close friends but none were as close as he was. In his trunk was found a receipt for ten cents from a blind man.

Remedy For Diarrhoea Never Known to Fail.

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this preparation in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York county and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I can not say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world."—S. Jemison, Spring Grove, York county, Pa. This remedy is for sale by J. H. Develop Home Life.

The individuality of the home is a thing in regard to which it pays to be selfish. There is a certain spirit that dwells in quiet rooms, which, when once driven away, will never return. Too many strange faces will drive her away, too much absence will banish her.

Once you have lost her—the sweet home spirit—nowhere in pleasures and palaces will you find her again. But she will haunt you, and in the long years, when pleasure no longer allures, when ambition is dead, and the banbles of life for which you left her have vanished in thin air, you will see her mocking shadow, but never again feel her soft caress, as you used to know it in the quiet days by the old home fireside.

No earthly pleasure is so genuine as home, yet it is a reproach in these days of false pleasures to be a "home body." In this respect the people of old Virginia were the most enviable in the world. Though visiting was a matter of daily occurrence, home was the passion of every Virginian's heart.

Home might be a tumbledown house, floors might be bare, and every evidence of departed glory greet the eyes of the newcomer, but he never heard an apology for the absence of any essential to comfort nor an intimation that the home of his friend might be improved from a worldly point of view.

The hauteur with which such a suggestion would have been received would have wilted the most aggressive advocate of progress.

And truly when one sat at the fireside of these people, and saw the self-satisfied countenances of the old folks at home and heard their intelligent converse, he was constrained to admire and envy the spirit of pride in which the Virginia gentleman's family believed in themselves, in their home and their surroundings, and would not have changed them for a kingdom.

Let us, then, again suggest the exaltation of the individual life, or perhaps it would be more frank to say the selfish life; for it is the belief of a very respectable minority that progress does not come by mass meetings, or societies, or organizations, but by homes, for which devoted and—yes—selfish families are contentedly working.

A home is about all one woman can care for. One family is a fair amount of responsibility for one man.

The more you mix outside interests with the interests of the home, the more you destroy domesticity.

Home makes good soldiers, good lawmakers, good citizens. The vagrant life of those who merely eat and sleep at home, whose lives are full of petty social or political interests, is not calculated to insure a stable sturdy race of people in coming generations.—Juliet V. Strass.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera And Diarrhoea Remedy, Better Than Three Doctors.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. B. J. Johnston, Linton, Miss. For sale by J. H. Orme the leading drug store in Western Kentucky, Haynes & Taylor the enterprising druggist in Marion.

Death in Livingston.

Ernest Spees, 20 years old, son of Robert Spees, a widely known farmer of Livingston county, who lives six miles from Smithland, died Thursday of fever, after an illness of several weeks duration. In the Spees' home four other young sons are ill of the fever and some of them in a dangerous condition.

The dead boy was well known in Paducah, as is the entire family. He is survived by several brothers and sisters. This funeral was today, with interment at the local cemetery.—Paducah News Democrat.

Two Great Farm Shows at the Same Time.

By wise and fortunate action on the part of the managers of the National Dairy Show, that event is to be held in Chicago during the last ten days of the National Corn Exposition's date, which is from Oct. 5 to 19. This will afford the farmers the opportunity of visiting the two great expositions by making one trip only. During this same period, a large number of associations and organizations in which farmers are directly interested will also hold convention in Chicago. Among these will be the National Association of Dairy Farmers, National Association of Corn Growers, National Dairy Union, etc. Other organizations to convene annual meetings in that city during the same period include the Milk Dealers, Creamery Operators and Buttermakers, Poultry and Game Dealers, etc.

At the National Dairy Show (date of which, at the great Stock Yards Auditorium, is Oct. 10-19), daily sales, at auction, of thoroughbred Holstein, Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire, Brown Swiss and Dutch Belted cattle will be held. Cash prizes to the amount of $10,000 are to be paid for cattle, butter, milk and cheese exhibits. Practical working of the milking machine will be demonstrated daily, and there will also be daily demonstrations showing mothers how to properly modify milk for their infants and how to test milk for quality and purity. Any special information desired concerning the Dairy Show can be obtained by addressing the Secretary-General Manager, Mr. E. Sudendorf, 154 Washington St., Chicago.

Mrs. Fryman Celebrates 101st Birthday.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Susan Fryman, aged 101 years, celebrated the anniversary of her birth at her home in Claysville, in this county, yesterday, surrounded by four generations of her descendants and some 300 neighbors and friends. Mrs. Fryman was born in Nicholas county, Ky., on August 14, 1806, and was a daughter of Christopher and Mary Wagoner. In 1833 she married Henry Fryman, who was born in 1808 and died of smallpox in 1902 at the age of ninety-four years. In 1855 the couple moved to Mrs. Fryman's present home on the West bank of the Licking river, in Harrison county. When the couple moved to this site the country abounded in wild game and Mr. Fryman often told of killing two deer in one day in front of his home. Mrs. Fryman has now living two daughters, nineteen grandchildren, sixty-eight great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren, and thus five generations were represented at yesterday's gathering. The aged woman is remarkably well preserved, although her face is drawn and wrinkled and her form bent with age. She is still able to walk about her home. Her mind is clear and she can easily recall many incidents of the long ago. She has always remained close to her home and has seen very few examples of the progress in science and invention in the last quarter of a century. She has never seen a railroad train or an automobile, and a few years ago was much perplexed to see a man riding past her home on a bicycle.—The Weekly Courier.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—only you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppose it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! (Henceforth every responsible mother, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance there, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membrane lining the stomach. Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years.
